DETAILED ACTION

1. In view of the Appeal Brief filed on 1/29/07, PROSECUTION IS HEREBY REOPENED. New grounds of rejection are set forth below.

To avoid abandonment of the application, appellant must exercise one of the following two options:

(1) file a reply under 37 CFR 1.111 (if this Office action is non-final) or a reply under 37 CFR 1.113 (if this Office action is final); or,

(2) initiate a new appeal by filing a notice of appeal under 37 CFR 41.31 followed by an appeal brief under 37 CFR 41.37. The previously paid notice of appeal fee and appeal brief fee can be applied to the new appeal. If, however, the appeal fees set forth in 37 CFR 41.20 have been increased since they were previously paid, then appellant must pay the difference between the increased fees and the amount previously paid.

A Supervisory Patent Examiner (SPE) has approved of reopening prosecution by signing below:

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

2. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Art Unit: 1743

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

3. Claims 1, 20 and 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Natterer et al. (5,027,578). Natterer teaches a packaging machine. The machine is best shown in Figures 1 and 2. The machine includes a lid (3) that includes a suction opening (19) formed between a lower plate of the lid and the suction hose (20) connected to pump 21) for drawing vacuum on the hose. The Examiner notes that the device does not teach oligonucleotide synthesis. The Examiner has not, however, used the device to reject the method claims.

4. Claims 1 and 24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lam et al. (5,651,943). Lam teaches an apparatus and method for polymer synthesis. The device is best shown in Figures 2, 6 and 7. The device include a lid (202/602) connected to a vent (722) by a tube (608) and valve (718).

5. Claims 1, 20, 22, 24, 25, 27 and 28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Kluttz et al. (6,429,007). Kluttz teaches a device for nucleic acid amplification. The device is best shown in Figure 24-28, 29A-C, and 31. The device includes a vacuum housing (134) that covers the test strips placed in the ridges (208).

As shown in Figures 29B and 29C, the vacuum housing includes a port (294) for removing air out of the enclosure by vacuum (column 16, lines 18-32) during use.

Inventorship

6. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

7. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

Art Unit: 1743

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
 2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
 3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
 4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.
8. Claims 5, 6 and 26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kluttz et al. (6,429,007). Kluttz teaches every element of claims 5, 6 and 26 except for a plurality of synthesizers. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide a plurality of identical synthesizers. Providing a plurality of identical synthesizers would increase the amount of product produced.

Response to Arguments

9. The previous rejections under Levin, McGowan and Heyneker have been removed in response to Applicant's Appeal Brief submitted 1/29/07.

Allowable Subject Matter

10. Claims 29 and 30 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims. Claims 29 and 30 recite a method of decreasing the quantity of vapor emissions from a synthesizer that includes the steps of operating the source of negative pressure only when the lid enclosure is open.
